Superior golf at a truly private club!

In 1986, Bill MacWilliam and Dave Paterson had a vision to create a truly great private golf course in the Toronto area. They dreamed of creating a club that was built for its members, with no outside tournaments, no tee times, no financial surprises - a club strictly focused on player enjoyment – and above all a top-class golf facility. They also wanted a true equity club that cares deeply about ensuring unprecedented value in the annual fees paid by members. Now, 26 years later, the founders have done everything they set out to do and more. St. Andrew's East stands on a quarter century of living up to its promises.

Considered one of golf's most picturesque golf courses, St. Andrew's East is located just north of Stouffville and only 30 minutes from Toronto. The professionally designed course is meticulously maintained in a spectacular natural setting. The 375 member-owners take pride in four-hour rounds on a championship layout, along with the fact that there are no tee times or outside events allowed. The beautiful club house and facilities are a world away from the hustle and bustle of busy lives. Membership benefits also include first-class dining and club facilities, CPGA certified professional teaching staff, practice facilities and much, much more. Members Mark and Michelle Baughman sum up the experience eloquently, "No sounds of traffic, no houses crowding the fairways. Just you and the course. Its golf nirvana..."

Renowned course architect Rene Muylaert, designer of more than 38 courses throughout Ontario, designed this 6,805-yard masterpiece that has since been refined by award-winning architect Doug Carrick and the Carrick Design team. According to Carrick, "St. Andrews East is a true golfer's golf club, just a wonderful layout on one of the most beautiful natural landscapes." St. Andrew's East pays homage to golf's origins throughout the course, including the six par threes, six par fours, and six par fives with two of the par fives back-to-back at the turn.

With 18 distinctly different holes, the course is never repetitive. For more than a quarter century, St. Andrew's East has created its own traditions by providing members and their guests with variety, unparalleled panoramic views, challenge, and most importantly, enjoyment. Bill MacWilliam, Managing Director, welcomes inquiries about becoming a member-owner of the club. Please contact him or head professional Craig Sydorenko at 905-640-4444 or by email at golf@standreweastgolf.com. Located at 14022 McCowan Rd. Visit www.standreweast.com for further information. In the words of actor Eugene Levy, St. Andrew's East is, "The best kept secret in Toronto, everyone says so." Discover it for yourself.

Unsurpassed beauty, quality, and enjoyment!
